Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father. May heaven's richest blessings rest upon them in the sincere wish of Mrs. James Powers and Family.

D. W. Keller left the first of the week for Parkerville, Kans., to look after his business interests there. He returned home Thursday morning.

Mr. George H. McElvahn and Miss Bertha G. Folkinburg, both of Togo, Kansas, were married at the office of the Probate Judge Wednesday evening.

The base ball fans of this city were about evenly divided as to who would win the world's series between Philadelphia and Chicago. Three games have been played, Philadelphia winning all three of them. If Philadelphia wins Friday's game at Chicago, the series will be ended.

J. H. Heckman, G. W. Baker and Kelly Bros. ordered a car of ice this week which arrived on Tuesday just previous to the cold wave. The joke is on them this time for the weather man has to keep up his reputation so as per schedule the thermometer dropped so low that a warm place behind the cook stove looked more tempting than a block of ice. This bunch is said to be making lemonade out of the lemons the weather man handed them.

Kansas City Market Report

Kansas City Stock Yards, October 18, 1910.

Cattle receipts today are 19,000 head, following a supply of 23,000 yesterday, including 4,000 calves for the two days. Prices held up about steady yesterday, in spite of the adverse effect of excessive supplies at Chicago, and a break there, and the market is steady on most everything today, western steers mostly a shade lower. Warm weather enables salesmen to get big fills this week, which makes net results equivalent to a strong market if the weather was against the acquiring of a thirst. The range country is turning cattle loose right and left, especially the Eastern slope of the Rocky mountains, in Colorado and New Mexico. Owners farther west are also shipping heavily, some big consignments here yesterday from Utah, and considerable complaint is coming from the range men about car shortage on some of the roads. Kansas and the quarantine territory are falling down in cattle supply this week, and are likely to decrease right along for awhile, till feed cattle move freely. A feature yesterday was the arrival of some corn fed cattle in the quarantine division, at $7.00 to $7.30, first since last summer. Other corn fed steers are here today from same territory. The cause of the big run at Chicago yesterday was a burst of liquidation from the corn belt in Illinois and Iowa, and not an extra heavy run of rangers, which indicates a disposition on the part of feeders to market their cattle before they are well finished. Some steers brought $7.75 here today, grass-steers $4.50 to $6.00, thin grassers and Old Mexicos down to $3.75, cows $3.00 to $4.50, helpers $3.75 to $6.25, bulls $3.00 to $4.25, calves $4.00 to $8.00, stockers $3.40 to $5.15, feeders $4.00 to $5.60. Hog prices took a big bulge today, prices up 10 to 30 cents, heavy hogs $8.80 to $9.15, medium weights $8.90 to $9.30, lights $9.10 to $9.35. Unevenness in the market caused the wide range, but the close was at the best point, and late sales at the top in the various classes. Run is 8,000 here today, a little better than heretofore, but still pitifully small. Packers have put out the bait of a stiff premium on light hogs to draw them in lately, with some success, and there was quite a narrowing up between lights and heavies yesterday. Sheep and lambs are steady today, following a break of 15 to 25 cents on lambs yesterday. Run is 12,000 here today, 24,000 yesterday, from which it will be seen that there are still plenty of stock coming available for the country. Packers took only 40 per cent of the receipts last week, balance going to country buyers. Best lambs bring $6.65, feeding lambs, $5.75 to $6.00, fat yearling $4.75 to $5.25, whethers $4.00 to $4.50, ewes $3.50 to $4.00.

Mrs. Swiggett attended the funeral of Mr. Jas. Powers at Collyer on Thursday.

A great drop in the temperature Tuesday and continuing throughout the week caused a rush to the coal yards, and stoves were hurriedly brought forth and put up to add to the comfort of the household.

Last Wednesday morning while preparing breakfast Mrs. A. J. Ellermyer was severely scalded about the face and arm while removing some boiling postum from the stove. She has suffered considerable pain but is resting as comfortably as possible under the circumstances.

Season tickets for the remaining six numbers of the entertainment course are on sale at the drug store at the reduced price of $1.75 for adults and $1.30 for pupils. The next entertainment will be given Friday evening, November 4, by the Otterbein Male Quartette and bell ringers which will be the most popular number of the whole course. Get your tickets early.

In the passing of Uncle Jimmie Powers, Trego county loses one of her pioneer settlers, a good man respected and liked by all. His sunny disposition won a warm place for him in the hearts of his friends. Collyer township is noted for having the best roads in Trego county, and it was all due to Uncle Jimmie's tireless efforts while road overseer to bring this about. Personally we have a deep feeling of sorrow over his passing as he was always a tried and true friend.

Death of James Powers

On Monday, October 17, 1910, James Powers died at his home near Collyer after a brief illness.

The deceased was born in Nova Scotia, Canada, March 13, 1831, where he remained until 1850, he then settled in Waukegan, Ill., where he was united in marriage to Miss Sarah Kane, October 15, 1856; he resided in Illinois until March 14, 1879, when he moved to Fort Hays where he remained only a short time having previously taken up a claim near Collyer to which place he moved and resided until the time of his death.

He is survived by a wife and seven children, several grand and great grand children. Mr. Powers can indeed be called one of the pioneer settlers of Trego county, and during his long life among the people of this part of the county we have never heard aught but words of praise and kindness for him. He was ever ready to lend his influence to any public enterprise that would be a benefit to the people, and his true hospitality and happy sunny nature won for him scores of friends. A more loyal friend, a kinder neighbor, a more loving husband and father never lived than Mr. Powers and his death is keenly felt among all who were acquainted with him.

On Thursday the funeral was held at Collyer and was attended by a large gathering of neighbors and friends. The World extends sympathy to the bereaved family.

To the Young Man Casting His First Vote

Your attention is directed to the fact that the Republican party is in power. Some years ago the party entered on progressive politics and has made long strides along these lines.

Our party stands today for more education and civilization, rather than the accumulation of great wealth. We are seeking to elevate the standard of manhood—making better citizens; making more equal the opportunities of all citizens.

All the measures passed by Congress in the last fifteen years have been calculated to make the best use of the faculties and bring out the ability of every citizen. Therefore the voter should have but one absorbing purpose in this campaign: vote with the party that has kept pace and grown with the times and where may be found the high tide of progressiveness—up-to-date.

The Deacon.
